Hi Lily,

I went back to the files from 2014 to research this same story. It came our right after the report did. Attached are some emails with responses from DTSC & EPA to various parties at the time. This is all I could find. Maybe Liz and Vicky need a reminder since they wrote the story back then. Per Ryan, new samples were collected for the areas in question and draft reports were submitted for review by all regulatory agencies (and subsequently approved). No reports were ever submitted for review with the data that was in question.

Please do not share outside your office/department. Thanks.

Nina

Hi Ms. Lee,

Can you please let us know what if any action the US EPA has taken in response to the admission by Navy contractor Tetra Tech that it falsified data and mishandled soil samples on Hunters Point? Has the US EPA reviewed any samples or required a resampling of any parcels on Hunters Point? If so, who performed the review? What was found?

Please feel free to call me to discuss: (408) 483-2084.

Best,

Liz Wagner
